

Greed overcomes intelligence

One day a tiger too old to hunt was walking hungrily on a bank of river...

...suddenly he saw a golden bangle on the banks

I could use it as a bait for hunting humans.
They are always greedy.

Just than a man was passing on the opposite bank.

A cartoon illustration of a tiger on the right bank of a river, looking across at a man walking on the opposite bank. The man is wearing a pink shirt and purple pants. The background features green bushes and a blue sky. A speech bubble from the tiger contains the text: "Man are tasty and man love gold. Let me trap this man & have a great feast." Below the speech bubble, there are two small white circles and a yellow ring with red dots on the ground, surrounded by small black arrows pointing towards it.

Man are tasty and man love gold. Let me trap this man & have a great feast.

Hey, my friend!
Do you want this precious golden bangle? I don't need it.
Come and take it from me free. You can sell it in market and become very rich!

Wow! This golden bangle appears to be very costly. He is right. If i have it then I can become the richest person in my village. But, I can't go close to him & risk my life.

You have every reason to suspect me. I have been wicked in my olden times. However, on the advice of a sanyasi, I have changed & now I don't harm humans. So don't fear. Come and take this bangle

When I come close to you, you may forget the advice of the sanyasi

I am old & my claws are blunt. Do not fear. Come and take this bangle.

The man's lust for gold made him overcome his fear

He seems to be genuine. He is old and can't run as fast as I can. What will he do with that golden bangle? Let me swim across and take the bangle.

Wait there.
I am coming right now.

The man came closer to the tiger.

The bangle really looks very precious.
I will sell and set up a huge business.

A cartoon illustration of a tiger standing in a blue pond. The tiger is orange with black stripes and has a wide, toothy grin. Its right front paw is raised. In the background, there are green bushes and a small yellow ring floating in the water. A speech bubble from the tiger contains the text: "You are swimming so slowly. Let me come & help you."

You are swimming so slowly. Let me come & help you.

The tiger soon attacked the man. He could not escape as he was in water.

...and finally killed him.

Moral: Greed overcomes intelligence. The attraction for material possessions leads to our destruction.
